

International Foundation for Photochemistry

Objective:

The IFP is a non-profit foundation (under the German law)
providing financial support for the holding of international scientific conferences in the field of photochemistry

Operating mode:

- Upon a written request by the conference Chair, IFP can advance a certain amount of money.

Advantage: rapidly available money, useful for making early reservations

- At the end of the conference, the Chair pays back to IFP the conference budget surplus, which will be used for the organization of future events

IFP has no other income
